A GROWING NEWSPAPER IN A GROWING COMMUNITY

The fact that there's been no rain in Campbell since March 15 doesn't mean the liquid weather is at an end. The barometer at the Campbell Water company this morning was hovering between change and rain, which indicates "probable rain" for tonight or tomorrow. Rainfall to date is 10.61, last year 5.18, total last year 10.34.

Construction of the six room building addition to the new Cambrian school will start immediately according to Princpal D. M. Bagby. Approval of the bid was received in Sacramento Friday.

"We hope to have the new addition complete in about seven months," said the principal. "However, there are many things, such as the weather, that might slow up the construction considerably."

Bagby, together with Frank Steindorf, president of the Cambrian school board, and Harry Lincoln, architect Butner's representative, travelled to the capital city Friday to obtain the approval of the State Finance committee on the bid. The committee also approved 511 feet of street fencing and 780 additional feet of fencing to completely enclose the school property.

"Temporary classes are being constructed for the students at present," said Bagby. "But even with the inconveniences, Cambrian will continue in full day session as always."

Three new teachers have been added to the growing faculty at the Cambrian school. New instructors, as announced by Bagby, are Mrs. Beatrice Mead, first and second grade combination; Miss V. Trogden, fourth grade; and Mrs. Francis Adams, seventh grade.

"With the additional faculty help," said the principal," it was possible to decrease the size of the classes and ease the crowded conditions considerably."

FOR OLD TIMERS ONLY

This is a story for old timers only. For it's the old settlers, the ones past 70, that know of lonely hours and emptiness when their loved ones all pass away and there is no one.

Mrs. W. D. Russel, 87, feels that loneliness today. She came up from Los Angeles, alone, to find a sister or niece who once lived in Campbell.

Mrs. Teresa Milholand is the long lost sister. She was last heard from, said Mrs. Russell, in 1916. The postmark was Campbell.

Pearl Milholand is the daughter. Mrs. Russell knows Pearl married but what happened to her and where she moved Mrs. Russell doesn't know.

Did you know the Milholands? If you did, contact the Red Cross, San Jose, or Mrs. Russell at the Imperial Hotel in San Jose.

Doorbells Ring As Local Youths Vie For Selling Honors

Doorbells all over Campbell will ring this week as the youths of the town start off on the two-month Campbell Press subscription campaign and contest. The drive, launched Tuesday, will continue until May 16. First prize for the boy or girl selling the most subscriptions is a streamlined Columbia bicycle.

"Entrants must turn in their letters of approval," said campaign manager Joe Anello, "before they can enter the contest. Only those who return the official letters sent out by the Press will receive a receipt book and the go-ahead to sell subscriptions."

All boys and girls, 11 years of age and over, are eligible for the contest. Commissions of 75 cents on each $2.50 subscription obtained are paid to the solicitors.

Salesmen who have collected money from the subscriptions may turn them in as they go and collect their commissions," said Anello. "This is a new ruling in the contest."

Second prize in the campaign are two pair of champion boxing gloves while third runner up will receive a complete archery set. The first prize award, the Columbia bicycle, new at Campbell Hardware, will move next to Accardi's Appliance store for two weeks. It will continue to be displayed in various merchants' stores until May 16.

Sole feminine entrant is little Letitia Reagle, a blond bundle of energy. Letitia claims she's going to win first prize and outsell every boy in town. At present she leads the field in total subscriptions sold.

All entrants in the contest who sell over five subscriptions in the contest will be treated to a picnic-beach party sometime in late May.

"Campbell residents are asked to be patient with our junior salesmen," said Anello. "They are all eager to win the contest and naturally will be pushing doorbells as much as they are able. There will be some duplications as it is impossible to restrict a child to a given area."

With three days remaining in in the drive, the Campbell Red Cross campaign is already $516 over its original goal, proudly announced Henry Jewell, Red Cross chairman today. The drive, originally set to close March 10, was extended until March 21, due to inclement weather.

"To date we've collected $2516.95," said Jewell. "And I feel confident that before the drive is over we'll collect better than $3000 from the Campbell area."

Although the official drive closes Monday, March 21, contributors may still send in their donations to Jewell, the Campbell Water company or the Red Cross in San Jose. If donators send their contribution directly into San Jose they should be sure to have it be credited to the Campbell area, said the chairman.

"There are still many homes that haven't been visited," the chairman stated. "If yours is one of them please give your donation anyway. Many of the homes in the rural district around the County hospital and Stevens Creek road could onoly be visited once. If the people were not at home the canvasser could only leave a card as it is impossible to return to those outlying districts a second time.

"Many people have called me saying they were not contacted. If they'll just drop their contribution into the mail they will receive full credit and the button will be mailed to them."

The total campaign funds will be determined after Monday night. The final total of the month will be made after the first of April. Since March is designated as Red Cross month all final reports will be held up until the last contribution is in.

Chamber Of Commerce Explains Duties Of Present Protection Set-up Wednesday In Lively Open Session

Residents and merchants alike were enlightened on the purpose and duties of the merchant patrol in Campbell at a lively meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce in the library clubroom Wednesday evening. Invitations were sent out to merchants and interested persons to attend the session where the hotly debatable issue was put to test.

Chief point of the meeting was to clarify the real purpose of merchant patrolman duty in Campbell as it stands at present. Chamber of Commerce officials explained that the merchant patrolman's only duties are to shake doors, check for fires and watch for prowlers. He is not hired for anything else, they said.

Many people in Campbell have called the Chamber asking why the "partolman" doesn't make arrests around town and investigate calls. The officials explained that those are policeman's duties who are authorized under oath and badge to carry them out. The merchant patrolman in Campbell is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce to perform only the duties mentioned and paid by participating merchants.

Following the business session, the meeting, one of the largest in months, was thrown open to public discussion on the question "Whether or not the Chamber of Commerce should continue as sponsor of the merchant patrol.". Presiding over the session was Chamber president Laurance J. Hill.

Groups both pro and con were present at the meeting to air their ideas and hear suggestions. Out of the 40 who attended, only 10 were merchants who pay for the patrol service.

Those who favored the Chamber of Commerce continuing the service as it is pointed out that the local organization has been the sponsor of such protection for at least 30 years to the satisfaction of the majority and therefore should continue to do so.

The "nays" had a different idea. They said the Chamber should divorce itself from the patrol and that Campbell should form a police district for future protection.

The Chamber pointed out that by its present by-laws, recently adopted, there could be no discussion of a controversial nature, that might call for a special election, at their meetings. The only way the proposed idea of forming a police district could be freely discussed at a Chamber of Commerce meeting would be by amending the by-laws or by having another civic group sponsor the move for a district formation.

Others who favored the present set-up mentioned that formation of a police district would mean taxation of that district seeking protection. They also mentioned that all cities that have police protection have, in addition, patrol duty for stores as a private service.

The Chamber members voted to send out ballot letters to all merchants who subscribe to the present set-up of merchant patrol to ask their opinion and at the same time receive a telling vote. The ballot will pose the question "Should the Chamber of Commerce continue as the sponsor of the merchants patrol?" In the letter also there will be given the alternative of private police protection to the merchants who would individually solicit and pay for such protection. Remarks and suggestions will also be called for. Letters go into the mail next week.

If the Chamber receives a resounding vote of confidence from the merchants the next question that will come is what to do about the numerous applicants for the job of merchant patrolman.

Two representatives from the Los Gatos Private Police Patrol were at the meeting to present their company's side of the question and what they could offer. Also at the meeting was merchant patrolman John Clemens who gave a summary of his services.

During the business session of the meeting, secretary Forrest Reese submitted the financial report of Old Settlers' Day, which was approved. The report showed that the overall net profit reached $1200 while the carnival netted around $700. Reports from the dance and the Footlighters were the only ones not accounted for.

President Hill made the announcement that the Chamber has added 400 feet of colored movie film of the 1949 Old Settlers' Day parade to the 300 feet of colored movies of the past three years. The 700 feet of historical film is now available for all Campbell organizations who wish to show it at their meetings. Any group interested should contact Hill.

Secretary Forrest Reese was authorized by the Chamber to purchase a new typewriter and file cabinet for the office.

Budd Levenberg was elected head of the nominating committee to select candidates for the coming Chamber of Commerce elections. Working with him will be Ollie Jensen and James Arends, Sr.

A letter of thanks was sent out to representative William Harrison of the American Dairy for the fine job they did on printing and distributing the 1949 maps of Campbell.

The Chamber also announced the purchase of a multiple-liability insurance policy that gives the Chamber complete coverage on all of its activities. The policy will cover up to $100,000. By purchasing such a policy, stated secretary Reese, the Chamber not only saves itself a great deal of money but fully protects itself in all activities at the same time.

President Hill welcomed several feminine visitors to the meeting and expressed the desire that more women attend future meetings. Affairs of the town will be more equally represented if more women turn out for Chamber activties, he said.

TEACHERS FROM CAMPBELL AREA GATHER IN GRAMMAR SCHOOL FOR CONFAB ON SCHOOL ISSUES

Approximately 75 teachers from the Campbell Union Elementary school district met Wednesday evening in the Campbell Grammar school for their regular discussion of school problems and possible solutions at various grade levels. The teachers were served dinner prior to the meeting.

All teachers met at 7:30 p.m. in a general assembly, and then were broken up into groups according to the grade level at which they taught. At 9 p.m. they all reported back to the general meeting to summarize their findings.

One of the chief points brought out as the large group re-assembled in the 9 o'clock assembly was the need for future meetings of this type. The teachers enjoyed the conference and the opportunity of exchanging ideas. The problems, skills and ideas for teaching fundamental subjects were all aired.

"Everyone is interested in finding new and better ways of putting over the solid subjects," said William C. Henley, district superintendent. "And at a meeting such as this the teachers have the opportunity of finding ways to improve their technique of teaching."

Some of the discussions brought out at the summary meeting as a result of the group meetings were: methods of improved scheduling of departmental programs, the subject of homework, use of tests and examinations, various devices for teaching fundamental skills, progress in reading, and exchanging of good ideas of various teachers.

Union Open House Draws Big Crowd

A huge crowd of interested parents and friends gathered in the halls and rooms of the new Union Grammar school last Friday evening for open house. Receiving the parents was Principal Kenneth McDonnell. Teachers received the guests in their classroms.

"There was an unusually large turnout," said the principal, "and that made the evening a complete success. We wanted as many parents as could come to see the new school and study its many features and facilities that the old building never had."

The seven room school house is completely equipped with germicidal lights and visual aid equipment in each classroom. In addition there are large vertical windows for natural lighting.

Herbert Becklin, landscape artist, will head the ground planning that is being done at the school.

Refreshments were served to the guests in the school cafeteria.

Senior Thriller Play 'Mystery Of the Whispering Bell' Opens Thursday

The fast action thriller-comedy, "The Mystery of the Whispering Bell," presented by the senior class of Campbell Union high school, will open its two night run next Thursday night in the school auditorium. at 8 p.m. The performance will be repeated Friday night. Author is Bonneviere Arnaud.

Leads in the play fall into the capable hands of Dave Wood, who portrays a statistician of horror phenomena and proud of it; Linday Finch who plays Joan West, a girl with a nose for mystery; and Audery Bergland as the sprightly maiden aunt Verity who provides the show with lively comedy throughout.

Others in the play are Evelyn Fuqua and Connie George who take the parts of Noney and Candy, the Fair twins; Norman Simpson as Max Rand; Jasper Ciraulo as Ramon Caldez; Richard Geraci as Jose; Barbara Amori as Maria; Franklin Hale as Amos Miggs; and Betty Watson as Mrs. Amos Miggs.

Sinister character, because of his attire and actions, is the Green Skull. All though the play this questionable figure appears Bruce Bobbitt was selected for the difficult role.

The entire action takes place in the tower room of the isolated Terrelle estate, located on a rocky region of the coast of California. The play starts in late afternoon and continues all through the fog-bound night.

Alvin Wolf, drama instructor at the high school, is directing the senior production. He is being assisted by Thelma Gould and Phil Cosentino.

Stage manager for the show is LaVerne LaMar. Special effects will be done by Earl Kailey while Dot Kamuf and Joan Sanders will serve as prompters. Taking care of properties will be Susan Barquist and Elva Saper. Handling the make-up will be Pat Downing Myles and Charles Gaff. Mike Stepovich is in charge of the publicity, Rudy Foglia, lights, and Willis Schaefle, tickets. Margaret Phariss, publicity commissioner for the school is also helping publicize the production.

The plot has an ominous cast to it from start to finish. The play centers around the Terelle legend which tells of a curse starting with "The Mad" Terrelle, a chemist, who people thought had made a pact with the devil and dabbled in "black magic." Every heir, from the "Mad" Terrelle on, up to and including the last heir, Gregory died in an accident. And some hours before a Terrelle died there was heard, so the legend goes, the strange, sweet and soft tones of the "Whispering Bell."

Out to disprive the legend is statistician Chenny who intends to seek out the truth and the "phenomena" of the ringing of the bell. The play opens with Maria, a devoted Terrelle housekeeper, making ready the tower rom for Chenny's occupancy.

Although Chenny arrives alone, he doesn't remain in that quiet state long. Strange figures are seen lurking about the room; the Fair twins, Jose, and the maiden aunt all come into the picture, and suspense mounts with each act until near the end. everybody begins to suspect everyone else. It all ends in a whopper of a conclusion.

The play is packed with thrills, chills, chuckles and surprises from beginning to end. Tickets are on sale at the high school or may be obtained by contacting one of the seniors at the school.

Campbell Youths Are Eligible For NJVAG Production-Marketing Contest with $6000 In Awards

A new production program for California junior vegetable gardeners, with $6,000 in awards, has been announced by E. Milton Andersen, department of Horticulture, Utah State Agricultural college, western regional chairman of the National Junior Vegetable Growers association.

In announcing the NJVAG's ninth annual production-marketing contest, Andersen pointed out that all Golden State boys and girls between ages of 14 and 21 are eligible to compete for A&P Food Stores' $1000 in agricultural scholarships. He added that such a program should be of particular value and interest to youthful gardeners of California where more than 138,000 farms in 1948 marketed crops valued at approximately $1,412,800,000.

All Campbell youths can enroll through their local 4-H club leaders, their vocational agriculture instructors, or by writing to Mr. Andersen at Utah State Agricultural college, Logan, Utah. George Shambrook heads the local 4-H boys and Mrs. Art Tindall leads the girls of the 4-H organization. Agriculture instructor at the Campbell Union High school is Al Smith.

The NJVGA regional chairman also pointed out that such activities among the young farmers of the state are becoming increasingly important in view of the ever-growing population resulting in demands for more and better food. He cited recent estimates indicating the nation has 148,000,000 people to feed now as compared with 130,000,000 in 1940. He also pointed out that the average American is eating about 15 per cent more food than in prewar years.

In view of the above," Mr. Andersen said, "it is more and more important that our young farmers learn as much as possible about improved production and more efficient marketing methods. The program of the National Junior Vegetable Growers association provides them with that opportunity."

Besides the production-marketing project, the 1949 NJVGA program again will include the annual national demonstration contest with trips and cash prizes offered by the W. Atlee Burpee Seed company of Philadelphia. These awards include trips to the annual NJVGA convention for those who score highest in the state contests, plus cash prizes to performers in national finals.

Nuptial vows were repeated by Miss Marian Jean Page and Richard S. Clark in a candlelight ceremony recently in the Stone Church of Willow Glen. The Rev. Eldred J. Clark, father of the bridegroom, read the double ring service.

The church was decorated with white stock against a background of magnolia leaves. Mrs. Paul T. Kinney, organist, played traditional wedding music and Miss Aileen Ciraulo provided the vocal selections.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Stanley E. Goold. She wore an aqua crepe gown styled with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She complemented her dress with short white gloves and carried a bouquet of aqua carnations with matching streamers.

The groom's best man was Don H. Smith of San Luis Obispo. Serving as ushers were Stanley E. Goold, Glenn B. Smith, Neil Christiansen, Paul T. Kinney and Lowell K. Fields.

For her outfit, the bride's mother, Mrs. R. C. Page, chose a royal blue suit with which she wore brown accessories. The mother of the groom selected a gray outfit with black accessories. Pink camellias were worn by both mothers.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parlors. A five-tiered cake encircled by carnations centered the bride's lace-covered table, and white tapers and crystal candelabra completed the appointments.

Cambrian 4-H Club Holds Pot-Luck Supper For 110 Guests Friday; Members Plan Community Project

Over 110 members, parents, and friends attended the regular monthly meeting and pot luck supper of the Cambrian 4-H club last Friday in the Cambrian school.

A report on the shopping tour held February 26 at Roosevelt Junior High school for the benefit of all 4-H clothing clubs in the county was given. The girls from the Cambrian club reported that it was a very educational meeting and the luncheon and recreational periods were enjoyable.

Fred Luring of the County Fire department presented the club with the Old Settlers' Day Parade award they won. The group marched in the parade February 22 in Campbell.

The community project for the year was discussed. Because the Cambrian school has allowed the 4-Hers to use the school for meetings the group voted to have the project for the benefit of the school. For the community project the 4-H club will plant Paul Scarlet roses along the fence of the school. A committee was appointed and work will start immediately.

A report of the Exhibit Day was given by E. Campo. The event will be held at the Santa Clara county fair grounds May 21. Every member was urged to have his project ready to exhibit at that time. Gerald Ellis gave an outline of his project and how he thought 4-H club work would help him.

Carl Bradley, manager of the yardage department at Sears, Roebuck & company, gave an interesting talk on fabrics. Samples of 25 fabrics were given to the clothing club for future study and reference.

A movie on swimming and a talk on safety around a swimming pool was presented by Fred Wejack, instructor at the Y.M.C.A. Movies of the Old Setlers' Day parade and a comedy of Old Mother Hubbard were presented.

After the meeting was adjourned the boys and girls of the club joined in community singing.

Happy birthday to Tom Burnett. The birds tell us his birthday is tomorrow but Mr. Burnett's keeping mum on the whole thing. But he added if Saturday were his birthday he'd only celebrate it by turning in another working day.

VIRGINIA CITY SHOPPING CENTER
March 18, 1949 CAMPBELL, CALIF. No. 1

Nature abhors a vacuum. When a head lacks brains, she fills it with conceit.

Our prices aren't too high—but taxes and other costs make them seem that way.

She'll look grand with a Spiedel band in the Easter parade—Johns Jewelry has them.

The other day a friend of ours asked me how I liked her new hat. I asked her where she got it and she told me that she always gets one when she gets down in the dumps. Funny place to sell hats.

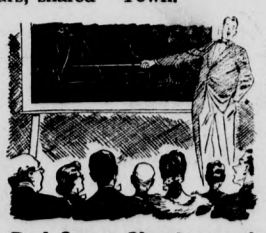
Yes, a watchmaker could steal a jewel from your watch—but it would take four hours' work to replace a brass bushing in its place and a new jewel is worth only sixty cents.

You can select a watch now for spring graduation and lay it away at Johns Jewelry.

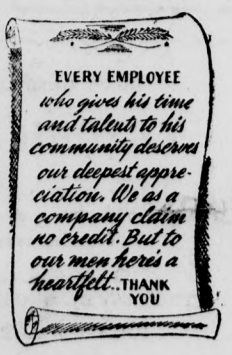
We'd like you to meet a nice guy

Here's Walt Storch of Oakland—Scout Master, Santa Claus, Red Cross Instructor... the pal and hero of more than a thousand kids. Like other P. G. and E. employees in scores of California towns, Walt has a civic hobby: his is helping children grow up. He has trained teen-age troopers for 21 years, shared their problems, attended their summer camps, led them on hiking and fishing trips. He contributes his own time generously to these activities. We're mighty proud of Walt Storch and other employees like him. They're the kind of men who make every town Boys' Town.

Year-round safety training qualifies P. G. and E. men to teach boys how to save lives. Our employees all over the system help Scouts earn merit badges in first-aid, safety and life-saving.



Red Cross Chapters and local clubs and groups share in this safety schooling. Many P. G. and E. men work closely with schools, churches, safety councils and volunteer fire departments.



EVERY EMPLOYEE
who gives his time and talents to his community deserves our deepest appreciation. We as a company claim no credit. But to our men here's a heartfelt... THANK YOU

Ciraulo Expresses Thanks For Aid In March Of Dimes

An appreciation of the cooperation they received from the Campbell Press during the March of Dimes campaign was expressed in a letter to the Press today from Jasper Ciraulo, first semester student body president.

"The drive was very successful in our area," said Ciraulo. "When compared with $110 in 1946, $158 in 1947, $687 in 1948, this year's total of $1293.84 is by far our best attempt."

It was through the combined effort of the local organizations, the merchants, and the schools that made this fine showing possible, he said.

General Mills' Fastidious Pig Priscilla Headlines Open House

Train a pig to be neat and vacuum its pen? The skeptics laughed and said it couldn't be done. General Mills has done it, and Priscilla, the Fastidious Pig, will be in Campbell, Saturday, March 26, 1949 to prove that a hog can be tidy and full of tricks, too.

Priscilla is a young pig with nothing fancy about her at all—except her ability to shine before a crowd. She had no real future when Dr. Keller Breland, professor of Psychology at the University of Minnesota, took her under his wing. She was a squealing, forty pound bundle of porkchops on the hoof then. Now, even with her added waistline, she skips through her routines with the aplomb of a chorus girl—without the temperament. She has completed her training triumphantly and will disprove once and for all that pigs have a low "oink-Q." In fact, she graduated cum laude from her course.

At the Open House, to be held at the Campbell Feed and Supply, Campbell, Priscilla will push a vacuum cleaner around her pig pen, eat a snack from a table set with bowl and silverware, and toss dirty socks into a hamper. She will also answer questions with the aid of an electrically lighted flashboard.

Teaching Priscilla the sock dispersal trick was the hardest of the lot, Dr. Breland says. That's because the pig isn't born with a lifting and dropping instinct, the way a dog is. All she has to start with is the instinct to root, rip and tear. However, the whole method of training is just a question of getting down to the pig's basic behavior patterns—from there it's a matter of altering the pig's responses to each stimulus to suit the goal you seek. "Working with barnyard animals has everything else beat in one respect," says Dr. Breland with a grin. "I don't have to bury my mistakes. I just eat 'em."

General Mills, Inc., maker of Larro Feeds, is sponsoring these Open Houses at the Campbell Feed and Supply, 201 E. Campbell avenue, Campbell. There will be no admission charge and in addition to Priscilla there will be prizes, refreshments and movies. Everyone is cordially invited to see for himself that Priscilla is making history for her race.

In addition to the above program, various manufacturers will have their representatives on hand to give talks and show films related to their various lines.

Among those present will be Lederle Laboratories, Ortho products, Jamesway Mfg. Co., fertilizer specialists and many others.

The State of Washington has led the nation in lumber production every year but one since 1905.

Anderson Receives Assurance Prunes Aren't Substitutes

Assurance that prunes purchased by the government are not being sold in substitution for normal purchases of dried fruit, has been received by Congressman Jack Z. Anderson, Eighth District Representative.

In a letter to Anderson, Ralph S. Trigg, Administrator of the Food Distribution Program branch of the Commodities Credit Corporation, told Anderson that investigations showed the distribution of surplus fruit was being made in accordance with terms of agreement with the industry.

Also reporting on Anderson's request for details of the sale of surplus prunes, Trigg stated thus far 3,240.75 tons of dried prunes have been shipped to Austria; 22,400 tons are being shipped to Great Britain; and 2,932.5 tons are being donated to domestic schools and institutions.

Trigg declared that while export of dried fruit under the European Recovery Program had been delayed because of the Pacific Coaost Maritime Strike late in 1948, export of dried prunes were continuing under program.

Greatest difficulty affecting exports is the lack of dollars in foreign countries, where Marshall Plan funds are stretched thin to provide vital items.

High School Holds Classes In Dance For Student Body

Social dancing for both beginners and advanced dancers has been added to the school program at the Campbell Union High school. Instruction is given by the physical education teachers.

The subject was introduced after requests by students, and now over half the student body is participating. Twice weekly classes feature dance steps requested by the students, and teachers believe instruction will encourage more youngsters to participate in school dances.

What's News IN MOORPARK

Last Wednesday was a very noisy day with truck after truck dumping concrete into the foundation forms of the new building for the Moorpark school. The earth shook with the roar of their mighty motors as load after load went by the north classroom windows.

Wednesday a group of 40 interested mothers came to hear Mrs. Nan Allan talk at the school. Mrs. Allan, Director of Child Guidance in the Santa Clara county schools, is an authority on children's problems. After a most enlightening talk, Mrs. Allan entered into a period of questions and discussions with the mothers. Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served at the close of this interesting study group co-sponsored by the school and PTA.

Mrs. Allan centered her talk on the differences in children which she explained is natural and normal.

Along with the usual number of colds, we have had quite a seige of chicken pox with eight children out at present. Four children are out with mumps but the cases are about cleared up now.

The Moorpark School maintains three teachers at the county hospital. Mrs. Irene Burns teaches in the tuberculosis sanitorium. At present she has 16 pupils. For her work she has a regular classroom with desks and regular facilities.

Mrs. Bessie Porter teaches in the pediatrics ward. These are mostly children of grammar school age or younger. Mrs. Porter does most of her teaching individually at the bedside of the youngsters and has nine pupils at present.

Mrs. Lucille Breiner was recently added to the hospital teacher staff to teach the children in the isolation ward. She has nine pupils, several of whom come to a specially arranged classroom and others who require bedside instruction. As an example of her aid there is the case of a young boy who gets real enjoyment from the use of a film slide machine. Although he cannot move his lower body, he can operate the machine with his arms, lying in bed, and watch the pictures on the wall. All of her pupils are past the contagious stage.

Mr. Cast of the Santa Clara County education office is combining his efforts with those of the fifth and sixth grade students at Moorpark schools in preparing folk dances and other activities. Miss Corbin is also working hard with us on the dances in preparation for the festival to be held May 13 at Spartan Stadium in San Jose. We will dance with students from many other schools in the eight dances. Free ice cream will be served to the dancers, following the festival.

Evelyn Rozema, sixth grade, reporting:

We were happy to have the mother of our patrol sgt. Anita Raab visit us March 16. Mrs. Raab saw the patrol in action and visited the office where she was able to see the duties performed by her daughter and the other students including Capt. Robert Neily, Lt. Kathleen Stanley and Sgt. Clifford Mallory.

Clara Inouye, sixth grade, reporting:

The members of the Mooorpark school safety patrol are thrilled with the new traffic hats. We don't have enough hats for all posts, so they are being worn only by the patrolmen at the crossroads. Other members now have enough for every member on the school grounds. The new hats are bright yellow with red letters and red trimming around the hat. We like them very much.

Lloyd Myers, sixth grade, reporting:

We are now in our second week of the South American contest in the sixth grade. The "Blue" team won last week by bringing in the most articles for the display board and the "Reds" are working hard this week to win. Jimmy Peterson is high man for the "Reds", 28 items this week. Kathleen Stanley has 16 points for the "Blues."

Orrin Cross, sixth grade, reporting:

Our principal, Mr. Ben Mabie, plans to start an orchestra at the Moorpark school. We are to have our first meeting this Friday. We now have new equipment including bass drum, snare drum, music books, etc. Members of the orchestra will include Robert Rollin, Mary Munson, Robert Neily, Beverly Hathrop, Kathleen Stanley, Gordy Oliver, Orrin Cross, Jon Pemberton, Eugene Andres.

We now have nine people in the orchestra. Mr. Mabie is teaching instrumental music to 24 students.

St. Lucy's Club Initiates 29 In Services Tuesday

Twenty-nine members, four of whom were new candidates, were initiated at formal services into the St. Lucy's Men's club Tuesday night in the church Parish Hall. Presiding was President Ira Grim.

A report from the Old Settlers' Day committee revealed that over $100 was made on the booth maintained by the club at the four-day carnival.

Budd Levenberg was appointed program chairman of the next meeting April 19 at 9 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

AL DEFECTIVE

YOUR PHOTOGRAPHY

By BERNARD BARRETT

Exposure problems are not particularly new. There are so many aids today to better photography, that such a statement may appear to be lacking in intelligent thought. But since all the factors incident to exposure are directly related to the intensity of reflected light, the problem of correct exposure becomes of prime importance and was so recognized when photography wore diapers. This problem can be easily be solved by measuring this reflected light, either with a photo-electric cell exposure meter, one of the extinction type meters, or, a simple printed guide. This last medium is by far the most economical, if your budget so demands. They can be purchased in almost any shop carrying film and other photo supplies.

The problem of correct exposure occurred to two men, Hurter and Driffield. This was in the days of photography's infancy. Today, their method of exposure calculation is referred to as the H&D curve. They discovered the fact that correct exposure could be determined by some system of light measurement. Since no means of doing this existed at that time, they set about testing various ways and means and came up with a process using sensitized paper. The paper was exposed until it had darkened to match a standard tone. The time required to do this became the measure of light intensity. The H&D system, however, was based solely on incident illumination. Their error lay in disregarding the scene influence, i.e., the illumination reflected by the scene to be photographed.

Later years saw the introduction of the extinction type exposure meter. A small container in the form of a wedge had secured within itself a strip of film, graduated in density, so that it was in the path of light entering the wedge when pointed at the scene to be photographed. These graduations were numbered and the one barely visible was the light value for that particular scene.

The error of the extinction meter was due to the unreliability of the human eye to determine true light intensity. Changing light intensity is automatically compensated for by contraction and expansion of the eye's iris and therefore loses the ability to register absolute light values.

School News From SAN TOMAS

By VIRGINIA JOHNSTONE and SUE COFFIN

A very interesting project was observed by the Science club at the San Tomas school this week. Mr. Spencer Thorne, who has a large aquarium at his own home, has donated several large glass containers, plants, snails, and fish and has shown the pupils how to take care of the aquatic life. It is planned that there will be one of these jars in every room of the school so that every class may have the pleasure of watching the development of the water plants and animals.

At long last the workmen have started the construction on the new additions to the San Tomas school. In spite of bad weather, trenches have been dug and forms are being set up for the foundations of a kindergarten room and an administration building.

These additional rooms will be greatly appreciated as the school space has been greatly limited.

Club Selects Jean Johnson To Attend Asilomar Confab

Jean Johnson, president of the "Dewyt" Horizon club was selected by members recently to attend the Horizon club Asilomar Conference April 29-May 1 as their delegate. Janis Henley was appointed as alternate.

At the last meeting a report was made of the recent donut sale. The girls also discussed the folk dancing invitation to the Skyline club April 23, hostesses for the Sigma Sigma Mens' Night March 22 and for a tea for the Service club of the Methodist church April 6. The girls also plan to give a tea and bazaar in their own name in May. The date has not yet been announced.

Jean Johnson and her mother were hostesses for the evening which carried out a St. Patrick's day theme. Fifteen girls were present.

San Tomas Improvement Club Select Committee For Coming Elections

Five members were chosen to serve on a nominating committee for the San Tomas Improvement club at a meeting held Friday in the San Tomas school. President Don Lukehaart presided.

The committee, headed by Mrs. Frank J. Welsch, will select candidates for the election to be held at the next meeting Friday, April 8. Serving with Mrs. Welsch are Don Givens, Fred Smith, Steven Ridgely Sr., and Mrs. John Schneider.

So successful was the last card party sponsored by the group, that the Improvement club decided to sponsor a similar affair Friday, March 25, at the San Tomas school. Mrs. Fred Smith is in charge of arrangements.

The Improvement club members voted to send a letter to supervisor Earl C. Campbell, fifth district, to see if some action could be taken on the roads in the San Tomas area.

Bells Will Boom As State Restores Mission May 1

In tones of triumph and with tongues that tell of California's earliest beginnings, bronze bells will boom forth a progress report May 1 on this state's first "American heritage" project, the restoration of old Mission San Antonio de Padua as a "living" page of the nation's history.

The bells will be placed in the partly-repaired structure during special ceremonies scheduled in connection with California's 1949 centeennial celebrations, it was announced by Jules Trescony, prominent pioneer rancher of Monterey county and chairman of the event.

Mission San Antonio de Padua—founded in 1771 by Padre Junipero Serra—is located in the Valley of the Oaks, in the midst of the Santa Lucia mountains. When its restoration is completed, the mission tannery, olive oil and grain mills, winery and blacksmith shop will be the scenes of busy San Antonio life as it was during the days of the padres and their Indian neophytes. The project is expected to rival the famed colonial restoration at Williamsburg, Va.

Thousands of visitors from all over the state are expected at the May 1 ceremony which, in addition to the placing and ringing of the mission's bells, will offer a dramatic pageant of San Antonio's founding and a barbecue such as those which featured the lavish hospitality of the Spanish dons. California's wildflower season, which splashes the Valley of the Oaks with an unmatched display of brighthued native blossoms, will be an added attraction for visitors.

Reservations Due By March 23 For WSCS Ham Dinner

"Get your reservations in early and be sure of a seat," said the chairman. Reservations may be phoned to Mrs. V. F. Fellman, 3483, Mrs. LBen Howard, 3586, or myself at 2132."

The unique Parcel Post sale will be the highlight of the evening. What it is and what will be sold is still a secret that will not be revealed until the night of the dinner.

Mrs. Nan Allan, Director of Child Guidance for the Santa Clara county schools, will open the parent discussion group on personality development of the school age child at the San Tomas school. The study-discussion group, for all interested parents, begins at 7:45 p.m., Monday, March 21.

Chairman of the group is Ted Balgooyan who will lead the group discussions. This is the first in a series of three of four programs designed to familiarize the parents of school children with the latest educational developments that might benefit the children.

"The parents who took part in the panel discussions concerning the teaching of citizenship in our schools, have asked for the organization of this group," said Principal William Shuey, "It is the parents such as these who realize the importance of development in each child the characteristics that will make him a well-balanced, well-adjusted and adaptable individual."

All parents who are interested in helping their child make the necessary adjustments in life are invited to attend these study groups, said the principal.

Campaign Opens For Members In Concert Series

The Los Gatos Concert Series association will conduct its annual membership campaign for the following season during the campaign week of March 28-April 2. Headquarters will be at North Harvey studio, 9 North Santa Cruz avenue. Office hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the campaign week only.

The Association serves Campbell, Los Gatos, and other communities by bringing to town famous artists so that local communities can have a "Carnegie Hall." The concerts are held in the Los Gatos High school auditorium which has a capacity of 830. Last year more than 700 memberships were subscribed to.

Present members of the association who have prior reservations on all memberships should renew their memberships not later than Wednesday, March 30. After that date memberships will be available to the general public.

The association has had a very successful season, having presented four outstanding concerts during the season to music and art lovers.

The most important thing isn't the weight of the load, but the way it is carried.
